PEDALLING IN FOR A PINT

Daredevil mariner Jason Lewis arrived in Dover in a pedalo on Sunday following a 13-year journey around the globe using only human power. To complete his 46,000-mile round-the-world trip by cycle, human-propelled boat and on roller blades he was due to pedal up the Thames to London. On arriving in Dover, Jason said: "Now I want to find a nice country pub which serves warm ale." FOR THE FULL STORY and more images, visit Yourdover.co.uk.

MOVES to privatise security at Customs could lead to millions of pounds of confiscated goods, including Class A drugs, ending up in unknown hands, Dover workers fear.

An employee at HM Revenue and Customs told Yourdover how staff were worried about outsourcing plans and had contacted the Public and Commercial Services Union in the hope of stopping proposals to allow a private company to hold seized merchandise.

The employee, who did not want to be named, said: "HM Revenue and Customs employs its own security in the form of Revenue Constables.

"These are Customs officers who secure sites that hold seized goods such as vehicles, Class A drugs, tobacco and cigarettes.

"A memo came out to employees saying they were going to outsource this and bring in a private company to deal with security from now on."

The decision to outsource is often made to try to lower costs, but staff are rallying against plans and feel that money should not be an issue.

The source said: "Privatising doesn't always work. It may save money, but in the long run it can cause problems."

HM Revenue and Customs was formed in April 2005 following the merger of HM Customs and Excise Departments and Inland Revenue.

Seized goods are held at Old Park, Whitfield, which has been run by a private security firm since it first opened.

Employees from many departments have voiced their concerns to managers and to the PCS Union and are waiting to hear the outcome.

Blood-sucking pests are out of control

■ BY NICK AMES

AN EPIDEMIC of bedbugs which is turning the country into 'Great Bitten' is particularly virulent at ports such as Dover.

Infestations have soared 500 per cent in the last two years say pest control experts.

Experts say the large numbers of people coming into the country as well as global warming have caused the unwelcome upsurge.

Millions arrive from abroad in clothes and suitcase each year and they survive and prosper in the recent warmer weather.

The blood sucking bugs are red and brown in colour and roughly the size of the pip of an apple.

They feed by piercing a person's skin and taking in up to four times their body weight in human blood.

Most common feeding times are an hour or so before dawn – although it can take place in the early hours of the morning.

The bugs cause itching and were virtually eradicated 50 years ago.

But now pest control companies are reporting the increase.

The bugs feed using two tubes – one contains its saliva, which includes anticoagulants to prevent blood clotting while with the other it withdraws

DOVER HARBOURING: Bedbugs are virulent at places such as ports, where people enter the UK the blood of its host. After feeding for about five minutes, the bug returns to its hiding place.

The bites cannot usually be felt until some minutes or hours later.

Although bedbugs can live for a year or as much as 18 months without feeding, they typically seek blood every five to ten days.

David Cain who runs a decontamination company said the large number of people involved in travel was a major factor behind the infestations.

And he added poor hygiene was not to blame for the reported larger numbers of the pests.

He said: "They are spread on public transport because people sit very close to each other.

"If people's homes are badly hit they will carry bedbugs on their clothes.

"If they sit on public transport they'll leave the bugs behind when they get up and the next person will get a dose."

He said he had seen people who have suffered more than 150 bites.

The bugs are also hard to spot as they hide in mattresses or in cracks and floors – leaving to feed during the night.

Experts say vacuuming of mattresses is the best way to get rid of them.

Kevin Higgins of the British Pest Control Association said: "We need to get this under control. The bedbug population is spiralling."

New Pfizer drug is latest tool in the war on HIV

Drug awaits green light from EU

■ BY NICK AMES

ONE of the biggest medical breakthroughs in years has been developed by Pfizer scientists based at Sandwich.

They have spent 10 years creating a new class of HIV treatment which helps people who have developed a resistance to the drugs that are currently available. Their work means that the lives of millions of people could be saved.

Maraviroc has already been approved for marketing by the powerful US Food and Drug Agency, which regulates treatment across America.

Now bosses at the Sandwich-based plant – which employs some 3,500 people – expect the European Union to follow suit by granting approval later this year.

Then the drug will be available to UK patients under the name of Cellsenti.

John LaMattina, president of Pfizer Global Research and Development, said: "There is a profound global need for new medicines to help HIV/Aids patients."

"We expect [drugs] like Maraviroc will become critically important new treatment options for patients who are resistant or intolerant to their current HIV/Aids therapies."

Pfizer emphasised that the treatment was not yet available in the UK.

However, a spokeswoman said that when it was, "we shall certainly be letting people know".

She said: "This is the first of a new class of HIV medicines and it has taken a decade of dedicated work at our Sandwich plant to perfect what is a great advance in medicine."

"It was discovered and developed by our Kent team, who have worked thousands of man hours on this project."

"Now we are awaiting the EU ruling. We have had very positive responses so far – so we expect it to be approved. We have got the green light in the USA – now it's Europe's turn."

Work on the drug started in 1997 when Pfizer researchers noted how certain people had an inherent resistance to HIV infection.

They discovered this was caused by a natural condition which blocked transfer of substances from blood cell to blood cell.

So they tried to reproduce the process artificially.

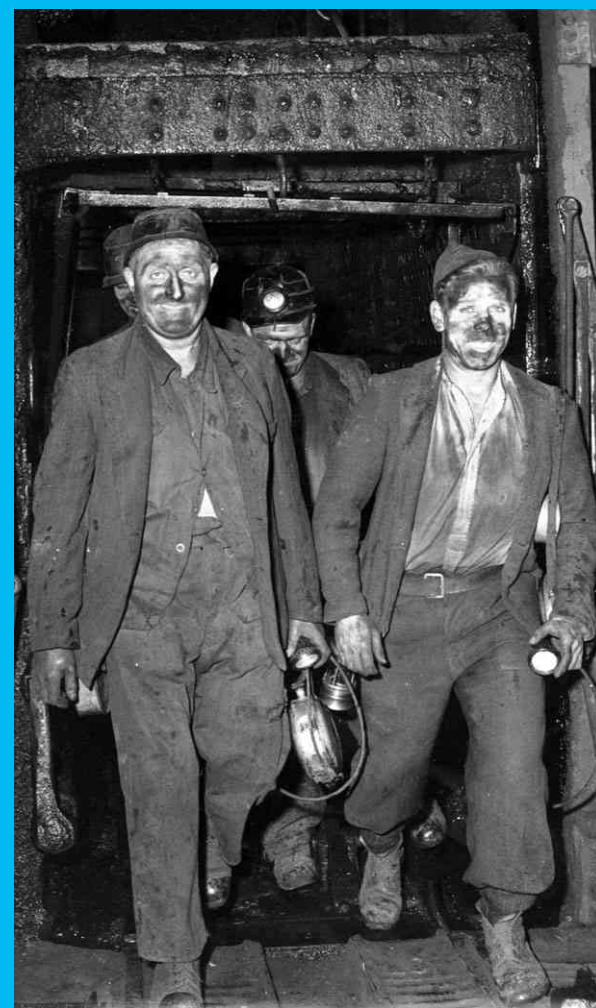

HIV drugs currently available fight the infection when it enters white blood cells from already infected areas.

So although a spread can be slowed down, it is unlikely to be totally stopped.

But Maraviroc blocks the disease from moving from diseased cells to others in the body – thus arresting its spread.

This means progress of the virus through an infected human body can be halted – but not yet reversed.

However, the new process will save the lives of millions living with the condition and is a big step forward in fighting the main cause of premature death in Africa.

Mine memoirs

Groups behind the preservation of the Kent coalfield are starting a new chapter in their work with the launch of a new book about the local area.

People behind the Coalfield Heritage Initiative Kent (CHIK) have worked with the White Cliffs Countryside Project (WCCP) to produce The Companion of the Miner's Way Trail, written by Paul Haddaway.

Dover District Council, who started CHIK in 2001, is very pleased with the progress of the group. Cllr Mrs Sue Nicholas said: "The CHIK project has been a great success and we are very pleased to have worked with our partners in the community to preserve our heritage in this way."

For more information about the project, you can phone the CHIK project at Dover Museum on 01304 201066 or visit www.kentcoal.co.uk

A matter of faith

TALKS with local vicars took place when Conservative Parliamentary candidate Charlie Elphicke met to speak about the role of faith in Britain.

Under discussion was a wide range of issues varying from support for faith-based schools to relations with other faiths.

Mr Elphicke, who was there with campaign manager Cllr Julie Rook, said: "If we are to succeed in combating anti-social behaviour, increasing respect and supporting parents bringing up children, then our churches do need to be fully involved in public life."

Fire service in Rush to show up driving horrors

A HARD-hitting educational film is to be shown around schools in Kent to highlight the dangers of driving.

The film was previewed in June this year and will now be shown to year 11 students from mid-October onwards.

Kent Fire and Rescue Service are proud to introduce their film, "Rush" to schools in the area. It tells the tragic story of a horrific road accident involving five teenagers and a young couple bringing their newborn baby back from hospital.

Shocking statistics have shown that male teenage drivers are the biggest killers of teenage girls and road traffic collisions are the main killers of 15 to 24-year-olds.

KFRS hope the film will educate young people on the potentially fatal consequences of being involved in road traffic collisions.

Cllr Julie Rook, portfolio holder for citizenship and consumer affairs, watched the film during a Community Safety Partnership meeting. She said: "It is a very powerful film - there was not a dry eye in the whole room."

"We need to show the reality to these boy racers, not just about ruining people's quality of life with the noise but about the real fact that they are more likely than any other age group to kill themselves and others."

Deal and Dover are areas affected by anti-social driving.

Cllr Brian Henderson said: "Every Friday and Saturday night youths speed around in their cars, squealing through car-parks and causing trouble. Last weekend joy-riders were driving around every night."

To see images from the film, you can visit our website yourdover.co.uk.

Anger over hospital's fate

FOLKESTONE people have expressed their anger over the proposed closure of the town's Royal Victoria Hospital.

They made their feelings known to executives of the Eastern and Coastal Kent Primary Care Trust at a health roadshow in Hawkinge on Monday.

Chief executive Ann Sutton and senior members of staff were present for the meeting, chaired by former BBC Radio Kent presenter Barbara Sturgeon.

Questions covered people's experiences of getting lost in the bureaucracy of the NHS, while there was concern over the proposed closure of the Royal Victoria.

One Folkestone woman told how she had to pay a £20 taxi fare to get back from the William Harvey Hospital in Ashford after being told that the Royal Victoria Hospital could not treat her husband.

"We do not want the Royal Victoria Hospital to close," she said.

VC war hero in fight for life

WORLD War Two veteran Tol Bahadur Pun was rushed to hospital this week after collapsing from the effects of dehydration.

The ex-Gurkha, 84, who was based at Shorncliffe Barracks near Folkestone was found collapsed at his home.

Doctors said he would have died had he not been found and taken to hospital by friend and fellow ex-soldier, Mel Glover, 67.

A campaign to allow Pun to get treatment for his health in Britain was headed by Absolutely Fabulous star Joanna Lumley.

Earlier, the Home Office refused him entry into the country, saying he did not have strong enough ties to Britain, despite winning its highest military honour.

Ex-sergeant Glover said: He didn't want to go to hospital but I had to take him. He was in a very bad way. It's so sad."

EXPLOSION RIPS THROUGH HOME

AN EXPLODING gas cylinder sent flames rocketing 20 feet in the air as a home was burnt to the ground in a fire.

The property, in the grounds of Pigeon House, Smeeth, between Folkestone and Ashford, was used as a part-time residence by a friend of the family which owns the main house.

Fire-fighters at the blaze, on Thursday, initially feared there were further cylinders on site and tackled the flames, also managing to prevent the fire spreading to nearby trees.

Mark Allsop, who lives in the main home in the grounds where the fire took place, was the man who raised the alarm.

The trucker, who works nights, was in bed when the electricity suddenly went off.

"I was about to go to sleep," said Mark, 40. "But when the power went off, I looked outside to see if I could see a problem.

"What I saw was flames as high as the tall trees in my garden. Then there was a sound that was like a rocket going off as the gas cylinder went up."

Residents split over worth of Triennial

THE Folkestone Triennial is an exhibition that will next year attract some of the biggest names in national and international modern art to the town, but it has received a mixed reaction.

Local resident Stephanie Stickland thought the Triennial would be a positive thing for Folkestone.

"I think it's a good idea, if the sculptures are going to be everywhere about the town."

"It could bring people together."

Friend Rebecca MacGregor disagreed.

"I reckon there are better ways you could spend the money on improving Folkestone"

"I have lived her for a long time and I haven't really seen any improvement."

Shopper Steven White thought the Triennial would be wasted on Folkestone.

"The general cultural level of the town is not particularly high, and if it is then it is well hidden under a particularly large bushel," he said.

■ BY ROB LIVINGSTONE

"I'm not quite sure whether installing art around the town will make people participate in improving the culture of the town."

His friend, Harriet Peel, thought the Triennial was a good idea.

"I think that any artistic initiative in this town is fantastic because I love art and hopefully it will make it more interesting to children of school age," she said.

"I think it will bring a few tourists, but there is a lot to be overcome when it comes to the reputation of Folkestone as it stands at the present."

Shop-worker Christine Clark liked the idea of the Triennial, but doubted it would help regenerate the town.

"I think it would be good if it worked, but I think it's gone down too far now to come back up."

"I don't think it will regenerate the town."

Beautician Jane Anderson felt the Triennial would bring visitors to the area.

"I think that will bring the tourists in," she said, "a lot of people are ready for something to rejuvenate Folkestone."

Olivia McLean, owner of a self-titled clothes boutique in refurbished Tontine Street, felt the Triennial would continue the improvements already taking place in the town.

"I think that anything that's new and creative in an area that's up and coming and going under so much regeneration is a good thing," she said.

"I think it's another aspect of an interesting regeneration project that's going on here, it will appeal to all walks of life and it will certainly make the town even more beautiful than it already is."

TRAPPED: Sheep on the Marsh have been cut off by the disease control zone announced by the Government

Sheep face bluetongue cull threat

THE bluetongue crisis could see thousands of sheep unique to Romney Marsh culled, it is feared.

Farmers say that 100,000 Romney sheep are trapped on the Marsh because it falls on the wrong side of the disease control zone imposed on Sunday by the Government.

The threat comes as the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs instigates stringent measures to combat the insect-borne virus which affects sheep and, to a lesser extent, cattle.

The Romney sheep are normally moved out of the area in the autumn before grass on the Marsh stops growing.

But the exclusion zone being put in place after the outbreak in Suffolk makes such movement impossible.

By now 50,000 sheep should have left the area – about half the total population of animals on the Marsh.

But they are all still in place and eating their way through food supplies.

A spokeswoman for DEFRA said: "This is a situation which we regret.

"The animals cannot be moved through an exclusion zone, which was introduced to isolate diseased animals, so enough food needs to be available to feed them through the winter. However, we understand that in some cases this is not available.

■ BY NICK AMES

"We have every sympathy with the farmers. Bluetongue is an 'economic disease' which has severe consequences for the owners of livestock in problem areas.

"We would only ever issue orders for a cull of infected animals. But I understand the fear is that they may have to be slaughtered as food is not available for them."

MP Jonathan Shaw, who represents the Chatham and Aylesford ward and is a minister for DEFRA, is working on the problem.

"The Government is working to find a solution," he said. "We know farmers are faced with huge pressures, but we do need strict measures to stop the spread of diseases."

Romney Marsh farmer Trevor Richards, who produces about 800 lambs a year and has 500 breeding ewes, said: "This is a unique sheep-producing area.

"I don't think the Government or DEFRA realise how unique we are and what an important time September and October is for selling these sheep."

Headteacher 'excited and proud' at literacy award

ST NICHOLAS SCHOOL in New Romney has been given a prestigious award for literacy and numeracy.

The school was awarded a Quality Mark for the first time by the county council and the Basic Skills Agency.

The Quality Mark recognises schools which have achieved good standards in literacy and numeracy, as well as in 10 elements, including analysis of a pupil's progress, identifying underachievement and working to resolve the problems, and working with parents and carers.

Headmistress Elizabeth Caldwell felt the award was fully justified.

She said: "We feel we are very good at identifying any problems the children might be having. We are very excited and proud of all the hard work the staff and children have been doing."

Chris Wells, KCC cabinet member for children, families and educational standards, said: "Literacy and numeracy are key to a child's learning. I hope they will continue to work to the standards set by the Quality Mark."

'Armed robber took fatal decision to fire at police'

AN ARMED robber was fatally shot by police after he fired at them during a raid on a building society in New Romney, a court heard this week.

Robert Haines, 41, from Challock, had held the gun to a Securicor guard's head and grabbed £105,000 before he was killed, the jury at Maidstone Crown Court was told.

Three men were charged over the raid on the Nationwide last year.

Two have already admitted involvement. But David Jenkins, 61, of Kingsnorth, near Ashford, denies robbery and possession of a firearm.

The court heard that Haines was making his way to a getaway car when officers from the Metropolitan Police firearms unit swooped.

"They shouted 'Stop! Armed police!' in the direction of the man with the gun," said prosecutor Ian Acheson. "He turned with his gun in a way as to make them think he was going to fire and he did fire."

The barrister told the court that Haines took a "fatal decision" to fire his sawn-off shotgun.

The case continues.

QUESTION & ANSWER

ALI WHEELER

Q It's the question everyone must ask you, but how early do you have to wake up to do your show, and how early do you have to go to bed?

A At 4.25am my alarm goes off, and then I snooze until about 4.40am and haul myself out of my pit and crawl into the shower. But I think that even if I got up at 7am it would still feel horrid. Getting up sucks, in general. As soon as you're up and going, you feel fine.

Because we have to be on top of what our listeners are watching, I do find myself watching a lot of evening telly. My husband Haydn commutes to London every day and doesn't get home until 8.30pm, so unless I stay up until about 10.30pm I feel like we're just ships that pass in the night. But I do get a few siestas throughout the week... which I love.

Q How did you get the job at Invicta – and what jobs had you done prior to joining?

A I sent a demo in to the boss and they got me down for an audition. James and I seemed to hit it off. The rest is history.

I hadn't really worked in radio before Invicta, apart from a six-month stint on traffic and travel at Essex FM, and a couple of months on a digital station. Before then I was working in music PR as a 'plugger'.

I was a promo girl for a while working with companies like Audi, Daewoo and Marks & Spencer. I did voice-overs here and there, and a bit of modelling for Boden and Laura Ashley for a while (when I was much slimmer!). I was a waitress in a café in west London and worked for a theatre-in-education company performing anti-drugs, anti-smoking and sexual health awareness shows – so it was a pretty varied CV.

Q You have a good radio chemistry with James Heming – do you get on as well off-mic as it appears you do on it?

A It's obviously a cliché... but yes we do! I don't think I could work that closely with somebody I didn't truly like. At 5am you're bloomin' sensitive, and if we didn't click with each other, coming to work would be foul. It's not like normal work relationships – you are working ridiculously closely with each other, and being friends makes that easier.

Q You live in Faversham – where in the county do you like to go and unwind?

A We love Tankerton Slopes, Mt Ephraim gardens for a picnic, along Faversham Creek for a stroll up to Oare and around there. Canterbury is a firm favourite for shopping, or Whitstable if I just want a little browse.

Q What do you believe makes for a good DJ? And who on radio inspired you before you got into the business?

A I think it's really important to be yourself. If you're not you on the air, it just makes the job difficult and the listeners see through it. I loved Christian O'Connell's Breakfast Show on XFM because it sounded so effortless.

Q Is working in radio as glamorous as the public perception?

A Nothing is! We get to meet some really interesting people and do some fun things. However, it's a competitive industry with pressures to keep getting bigger audience figures, bosses to keep happy, and you have to keep evolving and delivering compelling radio every day. There's this myth that all breakfast DJs go home at 10am – I wish that was the case.

Q Who is the most famous person you have interviewed and what were they like?

A It was Kevin Spacey and I walked into the studio, tripped over a load of wires and practically fell on top of him. He was lovely about it and we had a great chat.

Q And have you got to meet any of your personal heroes in this line of work?

A Ricky Gervais, who was very funny, Rob Brydon, who was a sweetheart and hilarious, and of course Kevin Spacey.

Q If you had the chance to interview a celebrity of your choice, who would it be and why?

A Dame Judi Dench or Julie Walters because they are both legendary actresses and I think they would be incredibly interesting – and very nice people.

furniture for life

The latest plasma screens have revolutionised television viewing, but the sheer size of these enormous units means they tend to dominate their environment. The answer to the problem comes in the form of magnificent, elevating cabinets which will definitely enhance rather than detract from your living space. The cabinets are available in traditional mahogany and yew as well as the latest contemporary natural oak. Your DVD player and VCR are stowed beneath the television and there is ample storage for DVDs and cassettes – and all hidden away behind the elegant veneered doors. The television itself is raised up by an ingenious, virtually silent mechanism operated by remote control. Axe falls on 58 post offices

ROYAL MAIL bosses yesterday revealed the 58 post offices in Kent facing the axe to cut costs.

They were named as among the first 180 branches earmarked for closure as part of plans to shut 2,500 by the end of next year.

There will now be a six-week public consultation on the planned closures in Kent, East Yorkshire and the East Midlands.

Ten post offices in Thanet, six in Shepway, five in Dover, four in Medway, three in Swale, Ashford and Canterbury and two in Maidstone will be shut if the Royal Mail goes ahead with its plans.

The other 22 post offices in the county under threat are in west and north-west Kent.

The government says 2,500 of the 14,000 post offices in Britain must be shut to end losses of £4 million a week.

■ BY JON COATES

The proposed closures will leave Kent with just 295 post offices serving the county, which has outraged postmasters and customers who fear losing their post offices will tear the heart out of their communities.

South Park Newsagents in Loose Road, Maidstone, was confirmed as one of the first post offices to be affected by the planned closures.

Postmaster Mark Smith said: "It's a disgrace - most of the customers use the newsagent facilities when they use the post office, I can see the closure being horrendous, and potentially we could lose a lot."

Mr Smith is currently running a petition to help save his business - in just three days he had collected nearly 200 signatures.

He is also urging his customers to write to the Post Office, and feels so strongly he is paying for the postage costs himself.

Mr Smith, 44, said: "I have been working 90 hours a week since I took over the business two and a half years ago - I have only recently been in the position where I don't have to. The closure is just so unfair."

"I've had to go through so many entry requirements when I applied to take over this post and I was told I wouldn't be affected by any closures. It feels like all my hard work was for nothing, I bought this shop because I wanted to be a post master."

FACING AXE: Mark Smith, of Loose near Maidstone, has been working 90 hours a week

Lack of communication blamed for bridge smash

A BREAKDOWN in communication led to a train striking an overhead inspection gantry and causing injury to a passenger.

The 21.57 service from Paddock Wood to Gillingham hit the bridge structure on February 5 this year ripping the roof off the cab and damaging the leading carriage.

A spokesman for the Rail Accident Investigation Branch said: "The inspectors working on the bridge did not have permission from the rail company as there had been a failure to communicate through the right channels."

Police tough on parents buying booze for kids

THE case of a mother who was fined £80 for buying beer for two of her teenage daughters has led to a police warning about "irresponsible parents" in Maidstone.

The two youngsters - aged 13 and 15 - were found by officers in a "heavily intoxicated" state near Mote Park, Maidstone.

The teenagers said the beer had been given to them by their mother who later admitted buying it.

Police licensing officer Barbara Murray said: "I want to warn parents that incidents like this will be regarded seriously and you could face a fine."

Kelly set to help dancing show to higher ratings

BBC bosses are quietly betting Kelly Brook will boost their ratings even further when the new series of Strictly Come Dancing begins this Saturday.

Rochester-born Kelly, 26, is arguably the biggest name in this year's show, which also features former Meridian local telly girl Kate Garraway, former footie ace John Barnes and ex-snooker star Willie Thorne.

Strictly Come Dancing BBC1 6.15pm Saturday.

RECOVERING: Sandy Bruce-Lockhart

'Overwhelmed' by well-wishers

TOP politicians have wished Sandy-Bruce Lockhart a speedy recovery.

The former Tory leader of Kent County Council is said to be recovering steadily in hospital after an operation to remove a cancerous tumour.

The 65-year-old led KCC for eight years, before making way for Paul Carter to take over in 2005. He is married to Tess and has three children.

A statement released on behalf of his family on Friday said: "Sandy Bruce-Lockhart had a major operation on Wednesday, September 20, to remove a cancerous tumour."

"He expects to spend a fortnight in hospital recovering and this will be followed by rest at home before any further treatment."

"Sandy, Tess and the family have been overwhelmed by so many kind messages and thank everyone for their great kindness and support."

Michael Howard, Tory MP for Folkestone and Hythe, said: "The contribution which Sandy Bruce-Lockhart has made to Kent is absolutely incalculable."

The former Tory leader added: "Every Kent resident owes him a deep debt of gratitude. I hope he makes a very full and speedy recovery."

The plans will be submitted to Shepway council.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Dover...

Three cheers for a club that appreciates the past

IT was excellent to read last week that Tottenham Hotspur FC had organised a service to mark a new headstone for the club's founder, The Reverend John Ripsher, who was buried in a pauper's grave.

At a time when football is continually under criticism for its actions and the attitudes of its players, such a dignified move has to be applauded – whichever team you follow.

As a Chelsea fan, I cannot help but contrast the effort one of our major rivals put into commemorating the man who founded the club – while our current owner seems bent on destroying what we have achieved over the last three seasons.

Arsenal FC are always branded as the aristocrats of football, but now it is time for their arch enemies to take their place at the game's table of the great and the good.

Even the motives of the Rev Ripsher – to get young people active and fit and steer them away from drunkenness – are ones that should be applauded.

Football is the sport that attracts the most criticism, but this sort of action is one which people who praise rugby and cricket should take time to appreciate.

For anyone truly interested in their team, a knowledge of where they came from is extremely valuable.

After all, you can annoy other supporters – especially those who came to the game via Sky's broadcasting of live games.

There is nothing better than football one-upmanship, especially pre- or post-game over a few pints.

And the Spurs story is certainly one which is of interest – and its connections with the town of Dover are remarkable, to say the least.

Earlier this year another connection came to light – the story of Walter Tull, the first black outfield player to play professionally in England.

He is commemorated on the town's war memorial as he died on the Western Front fighting the Germans during the 1914-18 conflict.

When details of his life as a professional footballer were revealed earlier this year – courtesy of fine and diligent work by a team of local historians – Spurs again earned a round of applause.

The club were quick to recognise and appreciate his games as an old-fashioned 'inside forward' for them prior to the war.

So, well played Spurs – and how many more historical connections with Dover will we see uncovered in the coming years?

TALK TIME

CHARLIE ELPHICKE

Charlie Elphicke is the Conservative Parliamentary candidate for Dover and Deal. He talks to Marijke Cox

How much do you think Dover has changed over the years?

Quite a lot. The port has grown enormously over a period of time and the way it is operated has changed quite dramatically. What Dover retains and has always kept is a strong sense of community spirit – I admire that.

What is your favourite thing about the area?

The people – they are great. They have got a lovely sense of humour tinged with an amusing naughtiness which I think is marvellous.

Do you think there is enough for people to do in Dover and Deal? Are there any changes you would like to see made?

One concern I have is the leisure facilities. Younger people have said to me that there is not enough for them to do in the area, so this is something I would really like to see changed. It would be great if we could do more for the younger ones. Maybe it would be possible to do something up at Whitfield, but perhaps more ideally in the town centre. This is something that I have certainly picked up on when talking to people and it should be looked at.

Another thing that concerns me, though, is that there is not enough healthcare and the local hospital has been through a difficult time. I would like to have a proper community hospital which can provide more locally-based services. A real problem is particularly with elderly people when they have to get to Ashford hospital or the QEQM in Margate. This is a concern that is raised time and time again.

Dungeness not viable for third nuclear station

Shepway council should not believe the hype from nuclear industry bosses over the possibility of a third nuclear power station at Dungeness.

There are many reasons the whole idea of nuclear new-build is highly flawed.

For starters, there is the Government's regular need to financially bale out the whole sector, usually involving taxpayers' money; and then there's the nuclear waste problem for which the proposals to 'deep-bury' it all are still many years away from being realised – if at all.

As regards the Dungeness site, it is no longer viable as Romney Marsh will be increasingly prone to regular flooding; as the county council's former eco-chief, Richard King, warned everyone just two years ago.

Accordingly, the plants already on site, albeit closed down, are very likely to require protection by a huge and expensive coffer-dam over their 100-plus years' decommissioning period with a causeway link to the then 'mainland'.

Flooding will also threaten the viability of the already rickety and accident-prone railway line which carries the waste to Sellafeld.

Further, building a new power station would require many a CO₂-producing lorry on much busier Marsh roads than was the in the 60s and 70s during the building of the A and B stations – this would last for 10,12 or more years, depending on the inevitable construction delays.

However, even a 10-year build period for any new stations would take their start-up well beyond the time-scale in which we have to act to prevent a catastrophic rise in greenhouse gas emissions. Indeed, leading climate science opinion says we must stop prevaricating and act now to start quite drastically cutting CO₂ and other emissions or face increasing damage to the biosphere.

Thus the answer remains, including locally, that we must greatly expand the use of renewable technologies.

This could be done by, for instance, rejecting the plans for Lydd airport expansion and getting firms which make solar panels and so on to locate on the site to supply what will – or could be, if Shepway council could be bothered – increasing local demand for it.

This could be enhanced by bringing German-style solar panel arrays on the Marsh area linked to the local grid.

Many jobs and training would be created by such developments now rather than waiting many years, if they ever arrive at all, for another, greatly expensive and toxic, nuclear power station, so providing a better, clean, green future for all.

Open return is wonderful news

It's fantastic news that golf's Open is coming back to Sandwich – all with an interest in seeing our area promoted should be delighted.

Kent – cricket and last summer's Tour de France excepted – is not over-endowed with world-class sporting events and this is obviously one of the very biggest.

It is also extremely good news for the economy as golf will attract the sort of followers who will spend, spend, spend in local hotels, restaurants and bars – not settle for a takeaway doner kebab and a pint of lager.

One-to-one attention! I don't feel tired or lethargic anymore!

Before I was introduced to SureSlim, I had tried other diets which really didn't work for me, I was left feeling miserable, fed up of being the size I was and fed up of being on my own.

My life was being affected by my weight: relationships, day to day life and not being able to control my weight, so I decided to contact SureSlim.

My consultant explained everything, the diet, the foods, the seeds, the times to eat etc, and so I took the plunge. What I really liked and what convinced me to join, was the one-to-one attention and the whole programme gave me structure and discipline. I also knew SureSlim were always at the end of the phone!

All very different from the other diet clubs I had tried.

During the first week, I had to detox but I had no ill effects at all. I started to enjoy the foods I was allowed and realised that I was eating properly for the first time in ages. I lost 10lbs in the first week!

I have continued to lose weight and have gone from 397lbs to 184lbs, that's 28 stone to 13 stone!

Since losing the weight I can now buy clothes from 'normal' shops and I don't stand out anymore because of my weight – I blend in with other people.

I've had such a good response from friends and family and I feel so much more confident, healthy and happy in all situations. I now swim regularly and can walk up the stairs without getting out of breath. The more weight I lost, the better my blood pressure readings and cholesterol levels became. I have now come off all the medication I was on and I don't feel tired or lethargic any more and best of all, I have a prolonged life expectancy.

There is not a word in the English language which can describe the way I feel now!!

We expected so much more

What a shame about Dover's exit from the FA Cup at the hands of Hythe – a team you would think they would normally have brushed aside without a problem.

I am sure many other fans are with me in agreeing that we expected far more from the much-vaunted appointment of Andy Hessenthaler with his experience.

A real feel-good atmosphere existed around the club when he came on board – but I feel this could very soon disappear if we see many more results like the Hythe debacle.

Come on, Dover – sort it out before it's too late and the season is over.

Anti-smokers are just so intolerant

Last week Yourshepway carried a letter (name and address withheld) from someone furious at moves to rethink the smoking ban at train stations and allow puffing to take place at designated areas.

The correspondent was aghast at such a proposal to allow a fairer deal for one of the last persecuted minorities in this country.

Whoever it was said that ash would still fall and smoke blow through the air.

Well, they have legs don't they? Take a few paces in another direction and they will not be troubled.

Anti-smoking campaigners have the least flexible views I have ever encountered on this subject by any one group on any particular issue.

Support study into mental decline

New survey results published by YouGov showed a lack of public awareness about Alzheimer's disease and dementia.

Its findings give cause for concern, highlighting that the public has little awareness of dementia, and that most people assume memory loss is a natural part of ageing.

People should not assume that mental decline is inevitable. We age in different ways – and exercise, eating well and staying active can all help us retain mental and physical health throughout our life.

At the moment 750,000 people in the UK are affected by Alzheimer's or dementia, and this is expected to double by 2030, causing a tragic loss of independence as well as considerable stress and heartache for all involved.

It is therefore crucial that much more funding is made available for research that can increase our understanding of Alzheimer's disease and dementia.

Help the Aged research shows that mental decline ranks as the UK's number one health concern associated with ageing, which is why the charity is working to raise funds for its project called The Disconnected Mind, a major scientific study aiming to uncover the causes of mental deterioration in later life and find ways to prevent them.

Donations can be made to The Disconnected Mind Appeal on 0207 239 1982 or disconnectedmind@helptheaged.org.uk.

Stop and think about the animals

A dark cloud has been cast over the farming industry this year – bird flu, flooding, foot-and-mouth and now bluetongue.

But if there is one thing it highlights, it's the need for all of us to find out more about the lives of animals that produce our food.

A survey by Freedom Food has revealed that 88 per cent of people didn't think pigs were intelligent – a shocking result when some tests show that they are as smart as dogs!

If we all make an effort to find out more about farm animals and show we care by buying higher-welfare products – like Freedom Food – more animals will be reared to higher welfare standards and more farmers will be rewarded for their efforts.

So please think animal welfare – especially now during Farm Animal Week – and visit www.freedomfood.co.uk to find out more about how you can make a difference.

Lee feels the bite in Iraq

Comic talks about his visit to the war zone, that suicide threat and being back on tour

LEE HURST had a number of unusual experiences during his hazardous trip to Iraq, but one stands out above the rest.

While on a visit to entertain troops in the war zone last year, he was offered the chance to dress up in a protective suit and invite a large attack dog to chase him.

Hurst convulsed with laughter as he recalled being dragged into the dirt and shaken.

He said: "I started running off, but when this huge dog brought me down I just couldn't help laughing. I'm asthmatic and I'd forgotten my inhaler, so I was wheezing and choking on dust, but it was hilarious."

It was all a far cry from Hurst's days as a popular television personality, appearing as a regular panellist on the BBC show They Think It's All Over.

He left the show eight years ago, after recording five series, to concentrate on his comedy club, The Backyard in Bethnal Green, east London.

His experiences on the circuit influenced the way in which the club is run, including a decision to ban smoking on health grounds a full five years before the Government did. Hurst takes a hands-on approach, even to security. At least two unlucky punters have been physically ejected for talking during the show, although Hurst claims to have no self-defence training.

He said: "I didn't really think about what I would do if they lashed out. My fighting style these days tends to be curling into a ball and crying."

Hurst certainly revealed his fighting spirit when he hit the headlines last year following an apparent suicide threat.

Distressed by the treatment of his dying father at a hospital on the Isle of Sheppey, Hurst decided to exploit the media for his own ends.

Threatening to take an overdose of anti-inflammatory medication if his demands were not met, Hurst locked himself in his car and called a national newspaper.

He said: "I knew it would up the pressure on the NHS and force them to act. I never intended to hurt myself or anyone else, so I tipped the contents of all but one of the capsules into one of my dog's poo bags. Then I went off and there was a bit of a manhunt."

Police eventually apprehended him on a beach at Minster and he was taken for psychiatric tests before being released.

The experience did not tempt Hurst into political comedy, but he found talking about it on stage a useful way to come to terms with what had happened.

He said: "Putting it bluntly, my dad died on Wednesday and it was in the routine on Saturday night. I've told the story three times and that's it - it's over with."

Hurst has already begun his latest tour and claims not to be troubled by nerves, though he has experienced other problems.

"On the first night of the tour, I was running late and didn't have time to go to the loo before I went on stage," he said.

"I thought I wouldn't stay on that long, but I worked it into the act and it went really well. I don't have favourite themes, I just talk about anything that's funny. It's really just me mucking around."

Lee Hurst will be appearing at Folkestone's Leas Cliff Hall at 8pm on Sunday, October 21. Tickets cost £16. To book, phone the box office on 0870 4000 890.

THE NUTCRACKER

Tuesday, October 16, Leas Cliff Hall, Folkestone

YOU can experience the magic of one of Tchaikovsky's best-loved ballets and the enchanting tale of The Nutcracker.

The heart-warming story of Clara and her nutcracker doll, which magically transforms into a princely soldier, is brought to life by the Vienna Festival Ballet Company.

According to founder Peter Mallek, the company is lucky to have the services of renowned choreographer Sheila Styles and Royal Ballet principal dancer Martin Howland.

He said: "The Nutcracker is such a well-known story and children love the music. It really is a ballet for children, because we have clowns and mice and sweetsies."

Peter began his career at the tender age of 14 when he joined the Vienna State Opera. Within three years he was dancing principal roles, and in the years that followed he danced all over the world.

The performance of The Nutcracker starts at 5pm. Tickets are priced from £7.50-£17. To book, phone the box office on 01843 296111, or visit www.margatewintergardens.co.uk.

BRASS MONKEY

Saturday, October 6
Astor Theatre Arts Centre, Deal

STALWARTS of folk will be in action this weekend as four-piece Brass Monkey bring their explosive freshness to Deal.

Fifth member Howard Evans died last year, but the remaining members decided to honour his musical legacy by keeping Brass Monkey going. While nothing could replace Evans's trumpet-playing, they found that with a bit of tweaking they could still produce great music.

Roger Williams trips effortlessly through the fastest of tunes on his trombone and he is bringing along a euphonium to add a softer melodic touch.

Master percussionist Martin Brinsford also adds a punch with his mouth organ, while Martin Carthy and John Kirkpatrick use their many years' experience of singing and playing together to great effect.

Tickets are limited and cost £13 in advance or £15 on the door. There will be seating and waitress service in a cabaret-style. To book, phone 01304 381134. For more information, visit www.astortheatre.co.uk.

Tate's Iron Curtain call

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

YOU couldn't blame Catherine Tate for getting a little 'bovvered' at the mention of her trademark catchphrase.

The comedienne has probably had 'Am I bovvered?' quoted back at her more times than she cares to remember, but the gracious star insists she's grateful for the recognition.

"It's not like I'm bombarded. It's usually kids who say it to me," she said. "But that's great. If people don't know who you are, it means the show hasn't worked very well."

After making her name on the stand-up circuit she successfully moved into TV, appearing in programmes like Big Train and Wild West, before landing her own Bafta-nominated show.

Earlier this year she made a guest appearance on Doctor Who and was such a hit she's set to return as his regular sidekick.

But for now the multi-talented actress is revealing a very different side.

In her latest movie, Mrs Ratcliffe's Revolution – released last Friday – she takes centre stage and this time she's not playing it for laughs. Far from being daunted, the 39-year-old star says she was more than up for the challenge.

"This script really did grab me," she said. "I thought it was brilliant as soon as I read it."

Set in the early 60s when the Iron Curtain descended, the film tells the true story of Dorothy Ratcliffe (played by Tate) who, along with her husband Frank (Iain Glen) and their two daughters, defect from their home in Bingley, Yorkshire to East Germany to live the communist dream.

However, their hope of a simple life with socialist principles quickly turns into a nightmare as an increasingly unhappy Dorothy desperately tries to keep her family together.

"She becomes the pivot for the family," Catherine said of her character.

"She's resolutely cheerful and the kind of woman who gets sidelined a bit, as I imagine quite a lot of women did in the 60s, and then she ends up this mini revolutionary."

Though her character's life couldn't be more different from her own, Catherine says she can relate to Mrs Ratcliffe, as she has also experienced life in the Eastern Bloc.

In 1991 she lived as an exchange student in Russia during the military coup.

"It was a very strange sensation. I was living with a family and the father and son would go out and protest at the barricades and for 48 hours we didn't hear from them. It was very frightening to see a family traumatised and torn about where their menfolk were," she said.

NOT BOVVERED: Catherine Tate was more than happy to take centre stage in the new film Mrs Ratcliffe's Revolution

Despite the austere nature of the movie Catherine says filming in Hungary proved to be a highlight.

"I was so surprised by how cosmopolitan and westernised it is. In my ignorance and naivety I thought, 'Oh I better take a lot of food with me,' and of course we didn't need to."

"It's such a beautiful country and the people were so lovely and so interested in what we were doing."

The actress, who was born and raised in London by her single parent mum, still lives in the capital, but Hollywood is beating a path to her door. She recently filmed Love And Other Disasters with American starlet Brittany Murphy and also appeared alongside Friends actor David Schwimmer in the hit stage play Some Girls.

However, the busy star says she has no plans to uproot to LA.

"It's a place I'd love to go and see if I was asked to do something over there, but I'm definitely not about to go knocking on doors. I have my family here," she added.

All of Turkey's delights on show

■ BY JO WALKER

ISTANBUL is a city that knows how to feed the appetite, and knows how to fuel it as well.

With main streets that seem to suffer from perpetual traffic jams, taxis and buses are an exercise in tedious frustration, so walking is the recommended mode of transport. And with so much to take in – from ancient temples to street markets – it pays to travel at a slower pace.

First stop on most tourist trails is the achingly gorgeous Hagia Sophia, and rightly so. Even the most jaded of travellers find its soaring domes, enormous Islamic medallions and light-pierced gloom a sight to behold.

Sightseers here are slack-jawed in awe and wonder. If that's the reaction of the 21st century tourist, I wondered, imagine what this place must have been to the millions who saw it before skyscrapers and 747s? Like the various here-afters it peddled, the place is still otherworldly.

A short walk away lies the famous Blue Mosque. A mere 400 years old, it's still a brash newcomer in the Turkish scheme of things, but what it lacks in antiquity it makes up for in pure elegance and a sense of vitality only a fully functioning place of worship can inspire.

If the Hagia Sophia shows the mish mash of Istanbul's past, this place is a single-minded love note to Islamic art, culture and faith.

While Istanbul is a city that welcomes visitors, it is not yet one of those over-touristed places that become attractively packaged cari-

CULTURAL ICON: Istanbul's Blue Mosque is only 400 years old – a newcomer in the Turkish scheme of things captures of themselves, a mere reflection of what foreigners think they should be.

While most of the must-dos are located on the Asian side of the Bosphorus around the Sultanahmet district, the European side has its charms too – of a more laidback, lived-in kind than its Oriental counterpart.

Our boutique hotel, the Pera Rose, has a touch of Eastern luxury with its deep leather sofas, darkwood finishes, and complimentary spa and sauna facilities – a nice distraction after long days pounding the ancient capital's pavements.

But the Pera Rose Hotel's main drawcard is its location: barely two minutes from Istiklal Avenue in the Beyoglu district, the city's all-purpose late night shopping, drinking and noshing zone.

Near to midnight it's still heaving as thousands of Turks cruise the street – some there for a leisurely window-shop, others nibbling borek, or just listening to folksy buskers strumming acoustic guitars.

Scores of ferries leave every few minutes from the Eminonu docks, and at 50p per journey, you get up close and personal with the sparkling waters of the Bosphorus.

In addition to the ubiquitous rounds of tea served in tiny glass cups, each boat features massive posters of the imposing Ataturk, founder of modern Turkey, decorated with exhortations to his fellow countrymen.

It's almost impossible to overstate the reverence in which he's held by the population here.

One stall selling wall plaques painted with iconic figures peddles pictures of the nationalist leader rubbing up against depictions of Che Guevara, Jim Morrison and Kurt Cobain.

And it's here he seems to have settled into the national consciousness – part politician, part rock star, part god.

It's a good bet he'll not be forgotten any time soon.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

BEING resourceful with your employer's cash brings surprise results. You could even parlay your current position into a more prestigious one. Don't be afraid to let down your guard with a lover; it's the only way to achieve the intimacy you need. Express concern for their dreams especially if they've postponed plans for the sake of yours.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

THIS is a good time to discuss the future with a partner. Getting engaged or planning a wedding is highly favoured. If you're already in a relationship, the two of you may decide to add to the family. Alternatively, you may decide to collaborate on a creative project. A generous bank loan or financial gift could help you buy a dream house.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

IF you're looking for new ways to save money, organise your household. Streamlining your space will give you more time to prepare. Donate any items you haven't used for over a year to charity. The more spacious your surroundings, the easier it will be for money to flow into your life. Your appeal will be an irresistible lure to a powerful admirer.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

MAKING new social contacts is the best way to meet your needs. Seek out seasoned professionals who are effective communicators. Career matters are highly favoured this week. Seize an opportunity to make a public presentation. Your wit, charm, and good looks will make a fantastic impression on your audience.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

TALKING with an expert can improve your relationship skills. Learning how to communicate your needs is half the battle in enjoying a fruitful romance. A plum work assignment could fall into your lap. Don't be surprised if an organisation offers you a prominent position after seeing your work. Getting paid to do what you love is a real possibility.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

AN older relative could offer to teach you a valuable skill. Take them up on it immediately, as it will result in better job opportunities. Never underestimate the importance of simple work like sewing, gardening, or carpentry. If you already have a lover, go on a romantic trip together. A change of scenery will reignite your passion for one another.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

TALKING about your problems can help you cope. Don't discount the idea of therapy. You don't need to have serious problems to benefit from such treatment. Spending time on a secret creative project can also prove fulfilling. Resist the temptation to show your efforts to others until next month. In the meantime focus on having fun.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

KEEP talks with an authority figure a secret this week and your discretion will be well rewarded. You may be trusted with a confidential report so hide things away from prying eyes. If you can pull off this job, you'll be given bigger and better assignments. A love connection could occur between you and a foreigner.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'RE giving more thought to your financial security. Making out a will, taking out an insurance policy, or starting a college fund for a child are among the possibilities. Even setting aside funds for a rainy day can make your job seem less odious. That's because having a safety cushion helps you take irritation with a grain of salt.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

THIS week gives you a golden opportunity to negotiate new terms for a job. Being assigned to a different department or getting a promotion offer are among the possibilities. Riches could flow into your life in the form of a luxurious gift. Hiring a personal trainer or joining a gym will boost your self confidence and make you more attractive.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

WORKING behind the scenes can help you fulfil financial obligations. While it's frustrating to not get any public acclaim for this work, it's also liberating to escape the spotlight. A friendship could turn to romance with very little encouragement. You have an uncanny sense of what a love interest needs to hear to let down their guard.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

WORKING with a large group can expand your horizons. It's important to cooperate with people whose methods may not match yours. This will help you become more open minded and adaptable. Your sex life is starting to sizzle. There's never been a better week to schedule a rendezvous. Don't be afraid to voice your desires.

Clunes holding surgery over Doc's casebook

■ BY ANDY WELCH

"I'D ONLY seen a very rough version of the first episode, so it was nice to see the final edit," said Martin Clunes after watching the first instalment of a new run of Doc Martin.

Many actors don't get to see rough cuts of their work before the editor and director have had their way with a show, so why is Clunes different?

"Well, I'm married to the producer, you see. I get to see these things as an insider," he said.

The character of Dr Martin, albeit it in a slightly different incarnation, first appeared in 2000 film Saving Grace. Clunes played the medic again in two TV film prequels a few years later, but after the original production company went bust, the actor and his producer wife pitched a revamped Doc Martin to ITV and the rest, as they say, is history.

The show as we now know it was first screened in 2004, and told of a socially inept surgeon from London who, after developing a blood phobia, retrained as a GP and moved to a sleepy fishing village in Cornwall.

When the abrasive medic arrived in Portwenn, he immediately began upsetting the villagers and struggled to adjust to the quiet life away from the capital.

"He's wrong in every way," said Clunes of his alter ego. Wrong and utterly prejudiced, in fact.

"That's why I love it, though," he added. "The central role in most TV shows is pretty smashing and normally sorts everything out for everyone, but that's what I love about Doc Martin, he causes the problems – except when it counts, when lives are at stake and he's so

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE: Clunes's part as Doc Martin has made the character one of the country's best-loved roles drastically right. He's just so rude though."

Cornwall's scenic Port Isaac is transformed into the fictional Portwenn and has become a genuine tourist attraction as a result of the programme.

"Lots of people go there," explained Clunes. "There are signs with directions on to landmarks from the show, but that's quite unfortunate for the people who own the house which doubles as my surgery."

"Sadly, people go right up to the house and tap on the window shouting 'Is he in?' They should say, 'Of course he's not in, it's fictional!'. Now there's another sign saying, 'Don't tap on the window' or 'Get a life' or something."

"One of the appeals of the show is that it's not filmed in London. When we did William and Mary, we were 11 hours in front of the camera every day, and then an hour or more travelling either side. It's horrible, and of course, it's not real travelling, it's just sitting in a stationary car in traffic for the most part."

"When I'm staying in Port Isaac for Doc Martin, I can finish work and be at my hotel in 10 minutes."

After landing numerous roles in esteemed shows such as Inspector Morse and Jeeves and Wooster, Martin shot to fame after as the lead in Men Behaving Badly in 1992.

More recent work, including an adaptation of Goodbye, Mr Chips and the highly acclaimed William and Mary, has made Clunes one of Britain's best-loved and most recognisable actors, and a person synonymous with family entertainment.

"I'm not interested in the gritty murder dramas really," he confesses. "I've done the adult comedy with Men Behaving Badly and all that too, so I like the family stuff now."

Sales of new homes suffer summer dip

LATEST figures indicate a sign of cooling off in the housing market when it comes to new homes.

The average price for August – the latest available – was £259,393. This represents a dip of 1.1 per cent over the previous month.

Despite this lower figure, the cost is still 0.3 per cent compared with the same period last year.

Market expert David Bexon said: “August has clearly shown a drop in prices as earlier interest rate rises begin to bite.

“New homebuyers are rightly being more cautious before taking on a bigger financial commitment.

“However, there is still an acute shortage of homes in the UK, so demand will remain strong, especially for family homes.

“The autumn will see a period of stability as homebuyers take stock of the market and wait for the next round of competitive deals from lenders and more development incentives.”

He added that new homebuyers were now feeling the effects of five interest rate rises which had occurred since August 2006, with those having to remortgage being faced with larger and more expensive loans to pay off.

Closed care proves a popular option for OAPs

A SHIFT in the market for homes for the elderly is influencing the housing market.

According to research, closed care communities, which provide self-contained units within the grounds of established care homes, are becoming increasingly popular.

Residents benefit from the use of the care homes’ visiting and established services while retaining a level of independence.

And experts say they are fast catching the traditional trend for sheltered accommodation.

Market analyst Sarah Woods said: “Residents in closed care accommodation benefit from avoiding potential upheaval and expense of moving again should their health deteriorate.”

The freehold of each such property is owned by the care home.

A monthly service charge also covers basic provisions such as upkeep of grounds and 24-hour emergency cover.

Residents are responsible for such things as TV licences, telephone bills and the usual utility bills as well as internal decoration.

RISE AND FALL: The controversial Home Improvement Packs could be of real benefit to buyers in the housing market, according to solicitor Ron Prior

Don't believe the HIP hype, says solicitor

■ BY RON PRIOR

RECENT Government announcements that Home Information Packs (or HIPs) may soon become compulsory for all housing stock will prove to be the first real test of the bold shake-up in the housing markets.

But far from a cause for concern, it should encourage Kent's buyers.

HIPs remain an issue blighted by oppositional politics and vitriolic national journalism. The people of Kent, given time, will surely see beyond the alarmist headlines and understand what HIPs can really do.

Figures released by organisations such as the Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors and the National Association of Estate Agents do indicate a drop in the number of houses coming to market, as part of a general dip across the whole property sector.

Those same figures did not extend to London and the South East, and so to use them as causal evidence of the impact of HIPs is rather short-sighted, given recent turmoil in international money markets.

The scheme was introduced when it was to appease critics but unfortunately allowed them to blame HIPs for depressing the market. Some sellers are indeed wary of anything new, but to hide from it behind an antiquated system is not the answer. Sellers just need the confidence to back packs; the buyers are waiting.

Soon all buyers will expect a property to have a HIP with all accompanying safeguards.

What that means is that when it comes to making that all-important decision of buying a house, it can now be done in a better-informed and very transparent way.

But amid the negative headlines and concerns, it seems time will be the great healer.

Only when HIPs finally become part of the national consciousness will we get the true picture.

The HIP could of course do even more by including a Home Condition Report (rather than the Government just partially extending the scheme), and committing to the full pack, which will truly revolutionise the housing market and fully inform prospective buyers.

MOTORS NEWS

Medway dealership wins top Ford award

A KENT dealer has won a top national award from the Ford Motor Company.

Dagenham Motors of Pier Road, Gillingham, and Cuxton Road, Strood, received Ford's 'Chairman's Award' for customer satisfaction.

Dagenham's general manager Chris Minter – pictured left, receiving the award from Ford regional sales director Mark Deans – said the company had earned the honour several times before, but added: "We're thrilled to have won this award. It is a direct result of the professionalism of everyone pulling together to provide the best service possible."

Dealership members were rewarded with an all expenses paid four-day trip to Monaco.

Style house goes Italian for deliveries

ITALIAN designer furniture chain Mattucci has acquired two Iveco Daily light commercial vehicles, as part of a move to bring its transport operation in-house.

The Daily 35C12 chassis cab models, styled by Italian design house Giugiaro, have high capacity Luton bodies and bear a striking burgundy livery created in-house by Mattucci.

They are based at the company's head office in Northfleet, where Mattucci marketing chief Halil Huseyin said: "We selected the Iveco Daily based on its proven reputation in the industry for durability and reliability."

Gorgeous duo top poll

FILM beauty Scarlett Johansson and the equally stunning Alfa 8C Competizione supercar topped a poll by motor show MPH '07 and the 4Car website, to find the dream car and passenger combination Johansson received 23 per cent of the vote, while the Alfa's victory was even more emphatic at 30 per cent.

MPH '07 is at Earls Court, London, from November 1-4, and hosted by Top Gear TV presenters Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May.

HANDSOME BEAST: Image is everything in the revamped E-Class. However, quality, space and effortless speed also come in handy when you're out on the open road

Mercedes star model regains all of its shine

MERCEDES showrooms are mind-boggling places nowadays.

There are models to suit everyone: mini MPVs, saloons, estates, luxury coupes, roadsters and convertibles

But this feast of models is a far cry from how the German 'wunderfirm' built a post-war reputation on pretty much one model, now called the E-Class – the company's management level saloon and estate range.

The 'E's credentials have been simple: rugged build, space, thoughtful and practical design, easy-driving and the cachet of that three-pointed star.

The latest incarnation is particularly handsome, though it needed a facelift in 2006 to silence whispers about electrical gremlins marring the once rock solid E-Class second-hand values.

The revamp introduced some new engines too and the Mercedes lynchpin now seems to be back on form, though the market sector is tougher; Audi's latest A6 is far better than before, while BMW's 5-series might not be a looker, but still claims the 'driver's choice' title.

ROAD TEST MERCEDES E-CLASS

BY STEVE LOADER

STAR QUALITY

|----------------|-------|
| Driving appeal | ★★★★★ |
| Image | ★★★★★ |
| Space | ★★★★★ |
| Value | ★★★★★ |
| Running costs | ★★★★★ |
| Reliability | ★★★★★ |
| Green rating | ★★★★★ |

Then again, neither matches the sense of well-being in the E-Class. If you have slogged up the corporate rockface, but can now waft into the company car park in this every morning, then you may feel it was all worth it.

That star on the bonnet adds to the warm glow as you cruise effortlessly along the motorway in an airy and classy cabin, with decent room for four to travel in great comfort plus ample boot space for luggage.

Unlike German rivals mentioned earlier, the big Merc also concentrates on delivering a fine ride, though the rear-wheel drive chassis is still balanced for quicker driving on more challenging roads.

Our test car was a top of the range diesel, the E320CDI Sport fitted with a creamy seven-speed auto 'box as standard and paddle shifts on the wheel for rapid manual gear selection – the car can be surprisingly agile.

Not that it then burns the juice; Mercedes reckons it has wrung up to 26 per cent more power from the whole E-Class engine line-up without increasing fuel consumption – our 320CDI version can average nearly 40mpg.

BEST-SELLING JAPANESE SUPERMINIS

SUPERMINIS were not something that Japanese carmakers used to 'do' with much style or verve. They were reliable, of course, but easily outclassed for image and style by European marques. But that changed with the original Toyota Yaris, ironically made in France for European markets. The Yaris now faces its stiffest competition from fellow Japanese manufacturers in the form of the quirky looking yet robust Nissan Micra and Mitsubishi Colt. All three make a statement but are also practical and reliable.

TOYOTA YARIS

TOYOTA'S original mould-breaking supermini (pictured) was replaced last year, but the second generation car has built upon its reputation for space within eye-catching yet compact dimensions; a Yaris of any age makes a decent used buy. The original also spawned the hugely versatile Verso estate-cum-MPV. The Yaris driving experience is classy too, but the years are becoming less kind to the interior design and visual quality of the original car.

NISSAN MICRA

BORING Nissan? Well, the Micra has blown that myth apart. This is the supermini that says you don't have to conform to style in order to be space-efficient and you don't have to carry a French badge to be chic – although Renault now owns Nissan. The Micra turns heads and looks 'right' in three or five-door form. It's affordable and reliable, available with excellent diesels and marketed with some stylish trim in the dearer versions.

MITSUBISHI COLT

THIS stylish little car has been a lifeline for Mitsubishi dealerships, starved so long of decent mainstream car models. It is offered in two forms: an MPV-style five-door with masses of space and a higher driving position, or a lower-slung and pugnacious sporting three-door. The CZT three-door hot hatch version is possibly best in class for the money, but the whole range delivers a good drive. Interiors are refreshing and almost Scandinavian in design.

Dover Harbour Board
Europe's busiest and most successful ferry port, we handle 15 million passengers, 3 million tourist vehicles and 2 million freight vehicles a year. With these figures set to increase, we are investing around £300m in a new ferry terminal and associated infrastructure including a marina, property development and traffic regulation. With the momentum already building there's never been a more exciting time to join our team. You'll be heavily involved in all aspects of construction, from feasibility, design and detailing through to Project Management for new works and the maintenance of existing installations. Our forward workload is hugely varied, so you'll be working not only on maritime-related projects, but also civil engineering and building schemes. To make an impact, you'll need to be a widely experienced Civil Engineer (Chartered or Incorporated) or a graduate with some experience, working towards corporate membership of the Institution of Civil Engineers. You'll be given full training and support to gain this and when achieved, this will open up a clearly defined career path. A background in project management and delivery will prove invaluable, as will experience within a port or maritime environment.  Lewis Hamilton factor has boosted business at Buckmore Park

BRIDGING THE GENERATION GAP: Both younger and older members of staff are impressed with the qualities that their colleagues bring to the workplace

Research debunks age-old work myths

■ BY LAUREN MUMFORD

FORTY per cent of older workers believe their younger colleagues teach them skills they previously did not have, according to a study of older and younger workers commissioned by Jobcentre Plus, while one third of younger workers believe older workers are more likely to work anti-social hours than colleagues their own age.

The findings, which come as the UK celebrates the first anniversary of the Employment Equality (Age) Regulations 2006, lift the lid on the benefits for both employers and individuals of employing a diverse workforce.

Across the board in the South East, the results show that working in a mixed-aged workforce is important for both older (61 per cent) and younger (63 per cent) UK workers with all recognising the benefits of working with people of mixed ages.

Lesley Strathie, chief executive of Jobcentre Plus, said: "The research shows that having the right balance of age and skills can bring numerous benefits to establishing a complete workforce for both employers and employees."

"Both older and younger workers appreciate and learn from the qualities each brings to the workplace. It's not always easy to get the mix right."

Perhaps unsurprisingly, the research shows the first and foremost quality younger workers in the South East think their older colleagues bring is experience (92 per cent) whilst reliability (65 per cent) and understanding (76 per cent) also featured highly.

Comparatively, nearly two thirds of older workers are impressed by their younger co-workers ability to learn quickly, be flexible (66 per cent) and give them energy (57 per cent).

Public sector and financial services workers show a higher level of confidence in their younger colleagues, although overall reliability appears to be an area younger workers need to improve – only a quarter of older workers believed their younger co-workers to be reliable.

One factor which was consistent across both age groups was the main reason they come to work – money, although this was more prevalent amongst younger rather than older people (78 per cent compared to 47 per cent).

And contrary to popular belief, only three per cent of younger workers stated that they come to work to meet new people, while 25 per cent of older workers confirmed that they work for personal satisfaction.

Full match reaction from Gillingham's home game against Leyton Orient

Town stunned by fast start

DEAL TOWN conceded the fastest goal of the Kent League season as they went down 1-0 at Croydon on Saturday.

Luke Whittaker-Jones hit what proved to be the winner after just 19 seconds, condemning Derek Hares' side to their second consecutive league defeat away from home.

After a mixed start to the season, Town lie ninth after six games in the Kent League Premier with three wins and three defeats.

Deal take a break from league action and resume their FA Vase campaign on Saturday when they host Chertsey Town in the first-round proper. They qualified for the main draw with a 4-1 win against Redhill.

Chertsey lie eighth in the Combined Counties League Premier Division after a promising start to the season.

The Surrey club beat Kent League's Erith Town 3-0 in the preliminary round and have won their last two away games, including a 2-0 win against Reading Town on Saturday.

GROUNDING: Player-manager Andy Hessenthaler and his side crashed out of the FA Cup before more than 1,000 fans at the Reachfields Stadium on Saturday

Hythe dump Dover in FA Cup cracker

HYPHE TOWN of the Kent League sprang a surprise on Saturday and became the only team so far this season to beat Andy Hessenthaler's Dover Athletic.

More than 1,000 people turned up at the Reachfields Stadium for a pulsating FA Cup tie between the local rivals.

Hythe manager Paul Fisk said: "I am delighted to win against Dover – we played really well and deserved the victory."

"To win in front of one of our biggest-ever crowds was a great feeling. I was a bit unsure whether the players would respond in front of a large crowd, but I have to give credit to them, they were fantastic."

"The result is definitely the best result of my managerial career and the money from this game will certainly help us finish the season well financially."

Hessenthaler, meanwhile, said: "It was disappointing to lose – for me this is the biggest cup around and I would have liked to have gone further. We will have to take it on the chin and give credit to the Hythe players, who played well."

"Every team has a blip – I just hope that the players respond to this in the next game against Eastbourne Town. It is my first defeat as manger here and it is not a nice feeling."

"However, good teams bounce back and I hope we can do that on Monday."

"We must concentrate on the league and our main objective is promotion."

Hythe took a shock lead after just five minutes when former Dover midfielder Buster Smissen put a low cross into the Dover area. The ball came off Craig Wilkins and went into the net for an own-goal.

Dover had chances to equalise in the first half when Frannie Collin hit a shot from 20 yards which was comfortably saved by goalkeeper Paul Hyde.

Wilkins also headed wide on the stroke of half-time when he rose to meet Hessenthaler's free-kick.

Dover started the second half brightly, with Collin and Dryden combining to force a shot marginally wide of the goal.

Midway through the second half, Hythe midfielder Joe Nielson was brought down in the area and the referee awarded a penalty.

Lee Winfield stepped up to take the spot-kick and calmly wrong-footed the keeper to double Town's lead.

Dover piled on the pressure and could have pulled a goal back through Collin, but Hyde made an important save.

In the final minute of normal time Dover did finally get on the scoresheet when Hessenthaler's free-kick was met by Matt Bourne, who headed past Hyde.

TOP SCORERS: Deal and Betteshanger (in white) are averaging 36 points a game

Dominant Deal still on top

A CONVINCING win over Tonbridge Juddians saw Deal & Betteshanger retain their lead at the top of London 3 South East.

Nathan Mitford starred by scoring four tries as the hosts ran up their heaviest win of the season, to the delight of coach Martin Michaels.

He said: "Everything came together for us today."

"The forwards played very well and the backs were clinical in their finishing. We had a good crowd and conditions were superb for running rugby. To their credit, Tonbridge kept the pressure on throughout the game."

Deal got off to the best possible start with a try in the first minute,

RUGBY

Deal & Betteshanger 48 Tonbridge Juddians 7

when Tonbridge fumbled the ball straight from the kick-off and Mitford pounced on the hesitation to storm through and beat the full back in a one-on-one.

The highlights of the game were two identical tries by Mitford.

On both occasions, fly-half Tom Best kicked a high hanging cross-field kick over the try-line and the winger leapt above two Juddian players to collect and ground the ball.

Winger Luke Armstrong continued his sparkling early-season form to score two more tries, with captain Steven Donnelly and Dave Farrell completing the scoring.

Tom Best kicked four conversions as Deal became the highest scorers in the league, averaging 36 points a game.

Deal take their 100 per cent record to Aylesford Bulls on Saturday. The Bulls have won just once so far this season but Michaels is preparing for a tough game.

He said: "We will take a lot of confidence into the game but we are aware that there is often a trough after a peak, so we don't want to get carried away by this result."

Tired Invicta get a second chance

FOOTBALL

BY TOM HOWARD

Folkestone Invicta 0-0 Windsor & Eton

FOLKESTONE INVICTA were due to play Windsor & Eton last night in a second-round replay of the FA Cup after a goalless draw at the Buzzlines Stadium on Saturday.

After the first game manager Neil Cugley said: "We didn't play very well and we didn't look sharp in front of goal after two hard-fought games in midweek, in which we played great.

"The players know that they did not perform and want to put it right. I am just glad we have a second chance."

Both sides had their goalkeepers to thank for point-blank saves to give themselves another bite of the cherry.

Invicta goalkeeper Kieron Mann denied Jon Case after 24 minutes, when Matt Seedel met a Ryan Parsons' corner from the right and Mann touched the shot round the post.

Windsor goalkeeper Sam Mazurek then kept out a close-range Mark Saunders' header five minutes after the interval after James Corbett's cross from the right.

Windsor had enjoyed the better of the early exchanges as Case hit the underside of the crossbar in the fifth minute.

In the second half, James Everitt headed just wide on his 100th starting appearance for the home club.

In the first half, James' elder brother Michael had called Mazurek into action with a low shot from the edge of the penalty area after 37 minutes.

The visitors had a late chance to snatch victory, when captain Steve Butler went close but his rebounded shot was blocked.

The game ended with a booking for Invicta's Abel as a result of an 80th-minute challenge.

REPLAY: Folkestone were due to battle it out in a replay against Windsor and Eton last night

Sending-off mars Dover win

RUGBY

Dover 30 Chichester 8

DOVER moved up to third in London 3 South East with a solid performance against an aggressive and physical Chichester side.

The match ended in confusion as Dale Tonks was sent off by the referee for stamping despite not being involved in the incident.

The Sharks controlled the match but tired in the last 20 minutes and gave away numerous penalties, which senior coach Graham Tonks was unhappy with.

He said: "We dominated up front and created a solid platform to enable us to win a good hard contest.

"The penalty count was simply unacceptable and something that we must control and it has again cost us."

Apart from an early Chichester penalty miss, the Sharks dominated the first half with some excellent rugby.

The home side's forwards were well on top and this was shown by the opening try. Under pressure, Chichester's scrum half threw a reckless pass which rebounded off his team-

HOME WIN: Dover overcame a determined Chichester side to move into third place in the division mate's headgear, allowing Jim Byrne to pounce.

The pack played a major part in the second try soon afterwards. Buster Collins fed winger Ricky Mackintosh, who powered home from 30 metres.

After the break, the visitors upped their game and were allowed possession through indiscipline and loss of lineout ball.

The second half became a scrappy affair with mistakes and infringements by both teams which stemmed the flow of the game.

The one bright move of the half came from Dover. Collins stole a ball at the base of a line-out, which was recycled to Martyn Beaumont who executed a perfectly timed miss pass for Ben Sedgwick to ghost past two defenders and score the try of the day.

The Sharks have a good chance of continuing their form this Saturday when they travel to play the winless Old Mid Whitgiftians.

Bognor bring Stones' unbeaten run to an end

FOLKESTONE RUGBY CLUB could not maintain their 100 per cent record when they were convincingly beaten by top-of-the-league side Bognor 42-17.

The Bognor backs were too quick for the Folkestone side as they ran in a number of tries against a shocked Stones side.

They will be hoping to put in a better performance than the one against Bognor.
